

MAKE 'N TAKE March 21, 6pm

Linda Wiese an experienced crafter will be giving a hands-on demonstration on how to create a personal journal. These little journals are perfect for carrying in your purse so you will always have something to jot a reminder on! During this demonstration, you will learn crafting techniques, such as using vellum, cropping, and placing embellishments. This evening is free and all the materials are supplied! We ask that you pre-register for this event by Friday March 10 at 5pm by calling the Library (920) 533 - 8534. This program is open to anyone over the age of 15 who is interested in exploring their creative side, crafting experience is not necessary.

Dying in Wisconsin Today A Status Report

Join us at the Campbellsport Public Library on Tuesday, March 31 at 6:30 pm for a free and informative presentation about the experience of dying today in Wisconsin in comparison to the end of life experience 100 years ago. Andy Land, the Director of Hospice Hope in Fond du Lac, will be at Library to explain how the medical field views death and how they deal with a terminally ill patient. He will also describe the Hospice view of death and the end of life care that they provide. This well-received speaker will end the program with a question and answer session. Free refreshments will be served. Registration is not necessary. The Library is handicap accessible, if you need special accommodations please call the Library at (920) 533 - 8534 in advance of the program.
